Learning is becoming an urgent topic. Nations worry about the learning of their citizens, companies about the learning of their workers, schools about the learning of their students. But it is not always easy to think about how to foster learning in innovative ways. This book presents a framework for doing that, with a social theory of learning that is ground-breaking yet accessible, with profound implications not only for research, but also for all those who have to foster learning as part of their responsibilites at work, at home, at school.

Denise Lee:

As a student exactly feel bored to be able to reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library or to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's heart and soul or real their interest. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring and can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is being complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this Communities of Practice: Learning, Meaning, and Identity (Learning in Doing: Social, Cognitive and Computational Perspectives) can make you really feel more interested to read.
